ELEGANT EDGE

October 7th, 2022

The beautification of life, the highest "household art" of making people happy and places pretty, also encompasses the adornment of the soul.

Because life is more than work, economics, and money, the life of the heart and spirit need constant replenishment. The beautification of life, the highest "household art" of making people happy and places pretty, also encompasses the adornment of the soul. Beauty is rather a measure of affect, a measure of emotion.

In the context of art, beauty is the gauge of successful communication between participants - the conveyance of a concept between the artist and the perceiver.

It makes me feel more put together and ready for the day. On days that I wear makeup, I feel more alert and ready to take on the day.

I'm more motivated and clear-minded. It's like wearing a real outfit, instead of walking around in sweats and slippers; you just feel better about yourself.

When you love makeup, you tend to see beauty everywhere. You want to be a makeup artist because you want to help other people see their own beauty. You are passionate about helping others look their best.

Makeup artists have the opportunity to help clients achieve their goals. Pursue your passion and you will always find joy and fulfillment in your life. If you have always been interested in making others beautiful and you have always loved fixing your friend's hair, doing their makeup and giving them beauty advice, then you might want to consider pursuing a career in the beauty industry.

Indeed, there are numerous passionate people who have turned their love for makeup and beauty into their career and now they are leading a life of their dreams. A hobby is something you enjoy doing for fun and in your free time. A passion is something that's inside of you and with you all the time. Something you feel compelled to keep engaging with, even without external rewards such as compensation or recognition.

For some people their passion is a profession, like medicine. We found that, while makeup did make faces more attractive on average, it only accounted for around 2 percent of the entire variation in attractiveness judgments. In other words, when someone makes a judgement of your attractiveness, makeup will only contribute to around 2 percent of that judgement.

Mascara, lipstick, blush, foundation and eyeliner are beauty products that are a necessity for many women around the world. However, sometimes makeup can be harmful to your skin's health. Unhealthy makeup habits can cause acne, aging, and oiliness or dryness.

Just as you'd wear a sharp suit to an interview or your fine glam getup to a party, the makeup you wear helps you to feel "put-together" and prepared. Everyone is at their most confident and beautiful when they're doing what feels right for them.
